

The Effect of Life Skills on Family Functions with Addicted Husband

Mohamadifar, M. A.¹, Talebi, A.², Tabatabaei, M.³

Abstract

Objective: the aim of the present research was to survey the effect of life skills on family functions with addicted husband. Method: the research was semi experimental with post and pre test. The control group was about 30 people who were selected by in access method from women whose husbands were being under intoxication services and recuperation that had referred to the Nedaye Salamati in Germeh City. They were grouped in two classes. Family Functions Questionnaire was distributed among groups one before the training and one after the training. Findings: the results showed that the effect of life skills on family functions was useful in all factors.

Conclusion: life skills training are useful and effective on family functions.

Keywords: life skills, family functions, training

۵

5

سال چهارم، شماره ۱۶، زمستان ۱۳۸۹
Vol. 4, No. 16, Winter 2010

1. Author-in-chief: Assistant Professor of Semnan University. E-mail: alimohammadyfar@yahoo.com

2. M.A. of Clinical Psychology, Semnan Azad University

3. Assistant Professor of Psychology, Payame Noor University